

STUDY ABROAD GUIDE TO PSYCHOLOGY

Guide to study Psychology abroad

PSYCHOLOGY IN ENGLISH

Fortunately, Psychology is one of the programs with the highest availability in English.

However, in our research, we have focused on the top universities and programs.

WARNING!

Most universities use a system of 'numerus fixus' for its Bachelor's degree programme in Psychology. These places are assigned via a selection procedure, which consists of writing a motivation letter and taking a selection test.

University of Amsterdam

34 IB Points

King's College London

35 IB Points

University of Groningen

35 IB Points

Erasmus University Rotterdam

30+ IB Points

London School of Economics

37 IB Points

Padova University

24 IB Points

Trinity College Dublin

28+ IB Points

Nanyang Technological University

37 IB Points

University of Hong Kong

35 IB Points

Peking University

27+ IB Points

Università Cattolica del Sacre Cuore

31 IB Points

THINGS TO CONSIDER

These are the things you should keep in mind when choosing to study Psychology abroad.

1

What are my interests? Psychology is quite a wide degree, so ensure your uni has some of the modules which you are most interested in.

2

Is the degree widely recognised? We advise you to review the accreditation of the program you prefer.

3

What about the finances? It's important to note that many European universities offer scholarships and financial aid for international students, which can significantly reduce the overall cost. Tuition fees can range from €0 in Germany (with some administrative fees) to around £37,510 per year in the UK.

OUR TOP PICKS - COUNTRY EDITION

As much as there is variety of options, our three top picks countries with high level of satisfaction, career prospects and housing highly-acclaimed universities.

1

UK

Studying psychology in the UK offers access to prestigious universities like Oxford and Cambridge, but comes with high costs. International students face annual tuition fees from £24,507 to £42,550 and living expenses of £11,440 to £15,300. Despite the expense, graduates benefit from esteemed degrees and excellent career prospects.

2

Netherlands

Studying psychology in the Netherlands offers high-quality education at renowned universities such as the University of Amsterdam and Leiden University. Known for their innovative teaching methods and multicultural environment, Dutch universities provide a vibrant academic experience and a welcoming atmosphere for international students.

3

Ireland

Irish universities are known for their strong emphasis on research and practical experience. The supportive academic environment and vibrant student life, combined with Ireland's rich cultural heritage, make it an attractive destination for psychology students. Graduates benefit from a solid foundation in psychological principles, enhancing their career prospects both within Ireland and internationally.

OUR TOP PICKS - PSYCHOLOGY PROGRAMMES EDITION

Please note that this reflects only our opinion. It should not replace the need for research based on your own preferences.

1

Psychology - University of Amsterdam

The Bachelor of Psychology program at the University of Amsterdam covers various psychological theories and practices, with a strong focus on research and practical experience. The program emphasizes scientific research and critical thinking, preparing graduates for successful careers in psychology and related fields, both locally and globally.

2

Psychology - King's College London

The course is accredited by the British Psychological Society (BPS), who have highlighted areas of particular strength in their course, including the emphasis on research-led teaching, modules for developing employability skills, and the wide range of discipline-specific opportunities, placements and internships that are available for students at the world-leading Institute of Psychiatry, Psychology & Neuroscience (IoPPN).

3

Psychology - Trinity College Dublin

At Trinity College Dublin, the Bachelor of Psychology program delves into the study of human behavior and mental processes. It covers a wide range of topics including infant and child development, perception, learning, motivation, cognitive processes (like memory and problem solving), individual differences, and social psychology. Students benefit from a rigorous academic environment that prepares them for careers in psychology through comprehensive theoretical knowledge and practical skills.

For more detailed information, check out our University Reports!

OUR TOP PICKS - RELATED PROGRAMMES EDITION

Here are some specific program recommendations related to the field and with very interesting approaches. Please note that this reflects only our opinion. It should not replace the need for research based on your own preferences.

1

Psychological Sciences - Universita Cattolica del Sacre Cuore

The approach is multidisciplinary, with a two-year period focusing on basic knowledge (psychology, biology, humanities) and a third year more related to the professional fields of reference.

2

Work & Organisational Psychology (Master) - Erasmus University Rotterdam

This master track emphasises organisational psychology and the role of emotions in modern organisations. Furthermore, new methods in personnel selection are examined in this master.

3

Techniques and methods in psychological science - Padova University

Emphasizing both theoretical knowledge and practical application, the program covers a wide array of research techniques, including experimental design, data analysis, and psychological assessment methods.

For more detailed information, check out our University Reports!

DOES A PSYCHOLOGY DEGREE REQUIRE MATHS?

At most unis there are no mathematics prerequisites. However, it's important to be aware that within the degree, there will be units that require a statistical focus.

YOU'LL BE DOING A LOT OF READING AND WRITING

A large majority of psychology assessments involve essays, literature reviews or research reports, so you might like to watch some instructional videos about academic writing and essay structure.

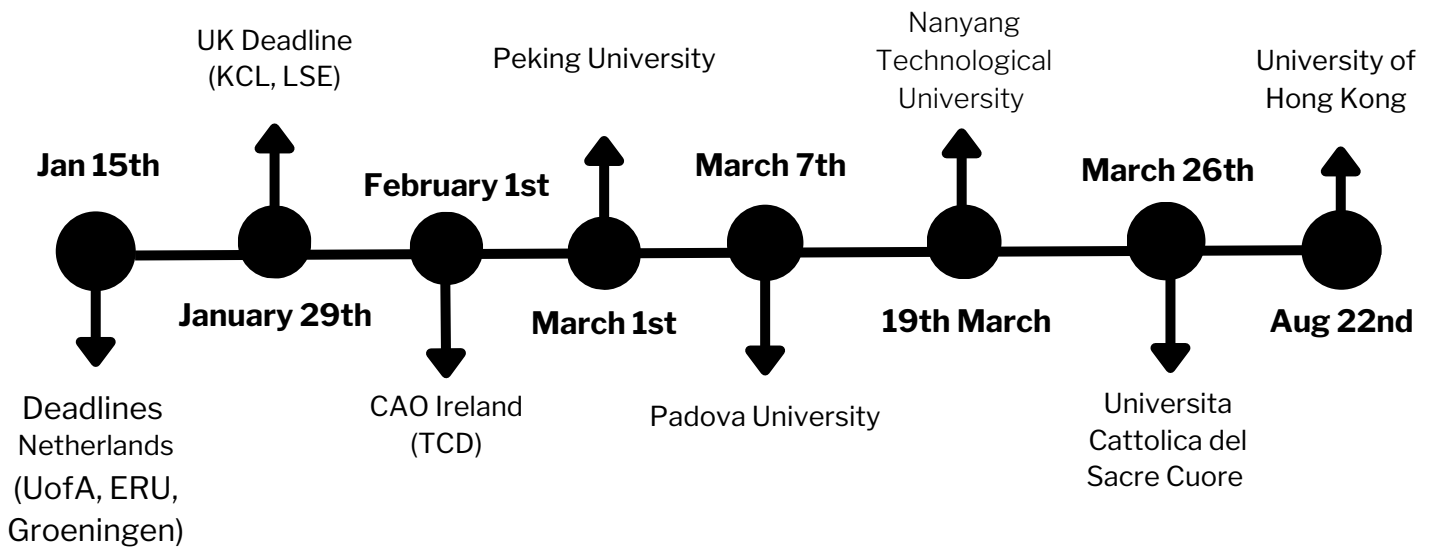

TYPES OF ACCREDITATION FOR PSYCHOLOGY DEGREES

You can easily check if a university is accredited by searching the university or program name on one of the following websites:

- CHEA.org and DAPIP for programs and universities in the United States.
- European University Association (EUA) for universities in Europe.
- TEQSA and APAC for universities and programs in Australia.

DEADLINE TIMELINE

We have mapped out some of the most important deadlines to keep in mind for many of the universities mentioned in this guide. Please note these dates are indicative only and more steps may be required to complete the application procedure.

Basic Information for Psychology

University	Subject	Academic requirements	Price	Deadline
University of Oxford	Psychology (Experimental)	A*AA 38 IB points	£48,620	29 January
University of Cambridge	Psychological and Behavioural Sciences, BA (Hons)	40 - 42 IB points	£30,752	29 January
UCL	Psychology BSc	39 IB points	£37,500	29 January
University of Amsterdam	Psychology	36 IB points	2.582,64 €	1 April
University of Groningen	Psychology (EN)	30 IB points	€ 2,530	15 January
University of Padova	Psychological science	24 IB points	€ 2,900.00	7 March
Trinity College Dublin	Psychology	34 IB points	€ 5,681	30 June
Universita Cattolica del Sacro Cuore	Psychology	31 IB points	€ 6,360	27 June
Nanyang Technological University	Psychology	37 IB points	13.022,36 €	28 February
University of Hong Kong	Psychology	35 IB points	€ 21.824,314	22 August

Basic Information for Psychology

University	Subject	Academic requirements	Price	Deadline
King's College London	Psychology BSc	35 IB points	£37,368	31 January
The University of Edinburgh	Psychology	39 IB points	£34,800.00	29 January
Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam	Psychology	36 IB points	€7,325	15 January
Leiden University	Psychology (BSc)	36 IB points	€2,530	15 January
Maastricht University	Psychology	36 IB points	€ 2,314	15 January
Tilburg University	Psychology BSc	28+ IB points	€2,530	14 May
Universitat de Barcelona	Psychology	28+ IB points	€2,000	30 June
University of Glasgow	Psychology	38 IB points	£25,290	16 October
University of Oslo	Psychology (master's two years)	33 IB points	€18,000	1 March